

General

To create a bar graph from the provided data, I need the actual data points or values. The image you've provided is not suitable for extracting data directly, as it seems to be a graphical image representation. Could you provide a list of values or a description of the data you want to visualize in a bar graph?